STAND BY THE PEOPLE'S HARBOR!

It does not follow, because the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors has at Huntington's request recommended an appropriation for Santa Monica, that both Houses of Congress will sanction such an appropriation. The friends of San Pedro have all the argument on their side, and if the matter be considered in both houses on its merits, San Pedro is sure to win. As has before been pointed out, it is too much to expect that the government will in the near future construct two harbors on this coast, less than forty miles apart. That may possibly be done in the distant future, but for the present the first and greatest desideratum is to secure the improvement of the San Pedro inner harbor, which can be accomplished at comparatively small expense.

The fact should be borne constantly in mind that at San Pedro competing lines of railroad will have free access, while at Santa Monica the Southern Pacific corporation owns or controls the entire water-front, and is thus in a position to shut out all competition by land. This consideration is all-important. A monopoly of the available water-front by the Southern Pacific means the paying of tribute, annually, to that corporation, to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars, by the merchants, manufacturers, and private citizens of this section of Southern California. With a free harbor at San Pedro we would have railway competition and consequently lower rates for transportation to and from tide-water. Those persons (and there are a few such) who are disposed to favor the appropriation for Santa Monica rather than to make a fight for San Pedro, should bear the above facts fully in mind.

The scheme to secure government aid for the improvement of Santa Monica harbor is simply a scheme to strengthen and perpetuate the Southern Pacific monopoly, to the detriment and financial loss of the people of this section. Nobody excepting Mr. Huntington has asked an appropriation for that purpose, and Congress will incur a strong presumption of robbery should it authorize such an expenditure of public funds.

Then let the fight go on, and let Huntington and his cohorts stand from under!

By an error in transmission from Washington, a special dispatch in The Times of Sunday, quoting Senator White in an interview, gave new and unexpected support to the proposed deep-water harbor at San Pedro. Speaking of the work that ought to be done at that place, the wires made it read: "That point (San Pedro) has been uniformly selected by the government engineers and favored by Messrs. Hood and Corthell, the railroad engineers." This is an error and misrepresents what Senator White said to our Washington correspondent. While the action described would have been complimentary to the engineering knowledge of Messrs. Hood and Corthell, it is not to be expected that the employees of Mr. Huntington would dare to express such an opinion openly. Santa Monica is the point designated for improvement by the railroad corporation, and the dispatch should have made that distinction. It is hoped that no suspicion will be directed toward Messrs. Hood and Corthell because of the mistake, but that they will be allowed to retain their jobs with the railroad company, even if it is with the unpleasant consciousness that what they favor is directly opposed to the wishes and expressed will of the people of Southern California.

The sentiment in San Diego, the home of U. S. Grant, Jr., and throughout the Seventh Congress District, in favor of that gentleman for delegate-at-large to the St. Louis convention, is growing rapidly, and it now seems certain that his candidacy will develop formidable strength in the convention. No selection could be made that would better please the Republicans of the Seventh District, or be more thoroughly representative of Republican sentiment in the State at large. In thus honoring the son of the great captain, California would reflect honor upon herself. It can be stated upon the best of authority that Mr. Grant will stand for the position, trusting his fortunes to the Republicans of the State.

Senator Elkins proposes to levy a tax of $10 per head on all immigrants who come to this country in vessels not owned by citizens of the United States. This would tend to restrict immigration, improve its quality, and in any case deliver the immigration-passenger traffic to vessels under our own flag. The idea is not a bad one; but is it $10 per head a high enough tax? Why not $5, or more?

HISTORICAL PARALLELS.

It is interesting in reading the Jerusalem Evening Journal to notice how little human nature has really changed even in eighteen centuries.

Last April the wealthy were on the anxious seat because of their incomes. They appealed to the fundamental law of the land in hopes that the Supreme Court would find in it some clause that would exempt them.

The same wall comes down from the past from the temple priests, the richest class of ancient Jerusalem. Sunday's Jerusalem Journal told how they, too, had to appeal to the fundamental law of their nation, the laws of Moses. They doubtless directed as subtle arguments to the securing of exemption from taxation as the bar of our own time set before the highest tribunal of our land.

At the very foundation of this constant warfare against our country's laws is deficiency in patriotism.

Love for our native land, its institutions, its people, is a lesson we need now more than ever to remember. In today's Jerusalem Journal the patriotism of Jesus is a central theme. He loved the land in which He was born with peculiar affection. He wept over Jerusalem. He paid his taxes. He zealously supported His country's authority and interest. His example in this respect we would all do well to follow.

Christian patriots, sometimes few in number but always some, have watched over our country since it began with Washington. Our country has always had good use for them to represent in civic life the fundamental principles of Christianity.

There is always opportunity. This is at least a good beginning for a wide-spread intelligent application of Christian principles to the problems of national life.

Writing in the Revue des Deux Mondes, Pierre Leroy Beaulieu estimates the population of Johanneburg, which he has visited, at something between fifty or a hundred thousand, of which only two or three thousand are Simon-pure Dutchmen; but these hold all the offices. There are from six to twelve thousand Germans, a few hundred Russian Jews, and a sprinkling of all other races from end to end of the world. In 1890 there were nine thousand Englishmen, but this number has more than quadrupled since then. The English and Americans do most of the mining; the Germans keep the corner groceries and beer shops, while the Boers stick to their cattle-raising. The Jews pick up odds and ends of business which others reject, and have a synagogue and a rabbi and all the religious additions and belongings of their order. It is as curious a population as that which assembled at the building of the Tower of Babel, or which made San Francisco lively in the remembered days of '49. And the famous South African city has only begun to grow.

The New York Mail and Express is of opinion that in the remote event of Mr. Carlisle's nomination for President on the Democratic ticket the platform might properly be something like this:

"Whereas, a deficit is more desirable than a surplus and an overdraft is more precious than a bank balance; and whereas, the best proof of a nation's prosperity is the increase of its interest-bearing debt; and whereas, the government doesn't need an increase as long as it can borrow money; and whereas, we can still sell bonds and let posterity pay the freight; therefore, "Resolved, that we point with pride to John G. Carlisle as a faithful and energetic exponent of the principles here set forth. In this we present a loyal endorsement of the traditional Democratic idea of keeping the government's expenses up and its income down, a trained defender of the glorious policy of borrowing when we need money and paying when we can, and a zealous advocate of the venerable Democratic rule that a public debt is a public blessing, and the more of it the greater the blessing; and finally,

"Resolved, that we are for revenue only, and the future must look out for itself."

It may be set down as practically certain that Carlisle, if nominated by the Democrats for President, will be defeated. It is understood that he is to have the support of the administration, and no candidate could stand that.

Cannakross Irishman.

Andrew Gallagher of an obstreperous and unruly nature, has been brought to the County Jail yesterday for the third time within the year and each time for the same offense—disturbing the peace. The first time he stayed forty days, the second, ninety, and this time he must remain at least sixty more. Gallagher gets drunk and goes on a tear, to the great disturbance of the peace of all law-abiding citizens.

Burglars Captured.

Fred Spink and Frank Stiner are in a bad box. Detectives Auble and Hawley arrested them yesterday on a charge of having been concerned in a numerous burglary. These detectives are hard at work on the case, collecting the necessary evidence.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Emmett is making the most rapid strides of any of the smaller towns in Southern California just now. Its new water system and its general appearance of thrift cannot fail to impress favorably those who visit the place.

Four hundred acres of olives are to be planted at La Mirada, west of Fullerton. This notable enterprise marks the beginning of what must prove a profitable investment. Olives are as staple as wheat. While better methods of pickling are needed, there is no denying the fact that California-grown olives are the best the world produces.

The person who will plug up a fire hydrant so as to render it useless, and then cover up his work in such a manner that it will not be detected until an emergency calls for plenty of water in a hurry, deserves more punishment than he will get in this world. For the sake of the safety of property and life, it is hoped that the plunger of the hydrants will be promptly plugged.

That ordinance to prevent persons from hitching their horses on Spring, Broadway and Main streets, is not going to be allowed to sleep. The Merchants' Association has presented to the Council a numerously signed petition, asking for some relief from the hacks and vehicles that now usurp the space before their stores, and suggesting that an ordinance providing the said relief be at once adopted.

While it is pleasing to learn that a handsome residence is to be erected on the magnificent site belonging to Joseph Medill at Altadena, it is hoped that the sale of this property will not prevent this veteran journalist from making his home in the salmy land that has known him so intimately. Other lands have their advantages, but those who are advancing toward old age can best appreciate the peculiar benefits to be derived in Southern California. A staying hand should be extended to Mr. Medill while welcoming new-comers to the land of sunshine.

Disappointment will doubtless be felt on account of the failure of the city to secure a public market site in the vicinity of the plaza. There, for many years, most of the barter and exchange business has been carried on, and the general accessibility of the place makes it particularly suitable for market purposes. The Ninth-street site is better than no market at all, but to serve the public in the best possible manner the market should be right in the heart of the town, as in southern cities, where the market is patronized by all classes of people.

Congratulations are due to the City Council for going ahead with the canvass of the votes cast at the late election without waiting for injunction proceedings to be commenced. "Greater Los Angeles" is a more popular measure than might be inferred from the actual number of votes cast for and against the proposition. Those who favor such schemes of annexation are more likely to neglect to cast a vote in their behalf than those opposed are to fail to express their opposition at the polls. The fact that a majority was secured for the annexation of these suburbs, notwithstanding such undesirable conditions, speaks volumes in favor of "Greater Los Angeles."

A PRIZE ESSAY.

Winner of the University League Silver Medal.

S. G. Dunkerly of No. 428 Fourth avenue has succeeded in winning one of the prizes offered by the Home University League to its members for the best essay on Benjamin Franklin.

The league was organized a year ago, with headquarters at Chicago, where a faculty is maintained for the purpose of assisting each member in acquiring a comprehensive education. One of its inducements to encourage effort in this line is the award of nearly $100 each month in prizes, for essays, the subject being announced through the organ of the league, an educational magazine, "Self Culture." The awards are made by a committee selected from the faculty of the various universities of the United States.

Mr. Dunkerly is to be congratulated as he was one of twelve out of several hundred contestants, to be awarded a handsome silver medal, receiving from critics a marking of 89 out of a possible 100. The league is destined to prove a mighty factor in the cause of higher education, since through competent educators they seek to extend the influence of the university in the home. The Times has been offering in connection with the sale of the New Encyclopedia Britannica, free of cost, all the advantages of the university movement, and will continue this offer until the sale closes tonight at 12 p.m.

MORAL SUPPORT FOR JOHNSON.

THE AMERICAN BOY.

Gen. Campbell Discourses About Him at Music Hall.

An Eloquent Lecture in Behalf of the Newsboys.

The Audience Contributes Freely Towards the Fund-Stirring Appeals to Establish a Home for the Boys Meet Cheerful Response.

Never was such a willing crowd of victims "held up" by such a delightfully benevolent highwayman as was the large audience last evening in Music Hall, which sat and applauded vigorously the newsboy and workman's meeting in which it was reflected that five twenty, next little girls and five and ponderous silver "carthyosis," Gen. A. B. Campbell, who gave the finishing touch to his masterly lecture on "The American Boy" by a stirring appeal to the listeners to aid the particular brand of him which pervades the streets with big bundles of papers in his arms, and makes the dawn shrill with shrieks of the excellence of his wares.

Los Angeles responded to the appeal in true Los Angeles style, nearly $250 being raised by subscription and collection, inside of half an hour, and the great majority of the audience, including the girls, had given their dollars of possibility, while girls around the streets, piercing the air with their yell and paralyzing the hapless bystander with their audacity, when it comes to a skirmish of wits and words; an appeal for the nation that these might be educated into good men and women, and not mere tools of the body politic; an appeal to every father and mother in the vast audience, who have boys of their own to educate into brave and loyal manhood, and it had its effect.

Col. G. Otis presided over the meeting, the acting secretaries being William Burgoyne and Brainerd Smith. Rev. George E. Dye, pastor of the East Los Angeles Baptist Church, occupied a seat on the platform, and an active part was taken during the financial portion of the exercises by the kindred men interested in establishing a comfortable home for the newsboys. Mrs. Threlkeld, the president of the association, was unable to be present on account of illness, but her place was well supplied by the vice-president, Mrs. Brainerd Smith, who was assisted by the secretary, Mr. E. A. Forester, as well as by Mrs. Burgoyne, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Whippley and Mrs. Johnstone of the board of directors.

The meeting was opened by music from the Venetian Ladies' Quartette, which contributed its share to the success of the meeting, and did everyone else connected with the meeting. Foley Parker adding to the entertainment by two baritone solos and Mr. Ward acting as pianist.

Col. Otis opened the meeting by an hour or two in few well-chosen words, the gratification it afforded him to preside at a gathering, the object of which was the elevation of humanity through the education of the youth in our midst. Birth, the speaker said, was an accident at the fortune and material conditions of a lottery. There were bound to be so many children born into the world, unfortunate through no fault of their own, and many of these were in our midst, boys striving to support themselves and often their families also by selling papers. The object of this meeting was to provide a home and comforts for these little wrestlers with the great problem of life.

The speaker declared it as his belief that there was never yet a boy born into the world with a sound constitution, physically and mentally, that he did not contain all the elements of good citizenship, and it was of the utmost importance to the health of the individual and of the State that these goods should be so trained and cultivated that it would uproot the evil absorbed from surroundings and association.

After Mr. Foley had sung "Where is My Country?" T. W. T. with much feeling and expression, and had responded to an enthusiastic encore by giving the ever-popular "Holy City," Col. Otis introduced Gen. A. B. Campbell, the speaker of the evening, as a man whose heart was in the right place and whose voice was well known hears that he was there to appear for that kind of a boy; that he believed his instincts were good and manly in spite of his mischief, and that he would make the best kind of an American citizen if he were given half a chance. The speaker's powerful voice grew louder as he spoke, and finally of the article which had been needed to train into a brave and useful manhood, and many faces in the audience were wet with the tears of quick sympathy as the bereaved father drew the lesson of the life and love from the blessing of the family which had been with him for seven happy years and then had gone, leaving him a memory to worship and room in his heart for all the forlorn and neglected boys in the world.

Reverting to the subject just then in hand, he said that the skillful couches drew the portrait of the hardy little fellows bravely fighting the battle of life, and appealed to the people before him to see that they were not driven down into the mire, but lifted up to better things. All kinds of boys were shown in rapid succession, and the audience cheered to the echo at every funny or touching incident of boyish wit, pluck, or ambition, seasoned plentifully with "cussedness," but sound at the core.

The speaker declared it as his belief that there was never yet a boy born into the world with a sound constitution, physically and mentally, that he did not contain all the elements of good citizenship, and it was of the utmost importance to the health of the individual and of the State that these goods should be so trained and cultivated that it would uproot the evil absorbed from surroundings and association.

A cordial burst of applause greeted the sturdy veteran as he stepped forward and stood for a moment indifferently polishing his eyeglasses, while he surveyed his audience with a smile. He then spoke of the friendly talk of the friendly talk which followed. It was the most interesting of monologues, but it was only a talk, for the lectures had laid aside his manuscript, and spoke straight about the big, warm heart which has room for a welcome for all the luckless little waifs and strays of humanity.

The keynote of the theme was: How to treat the boys of America; not necessarily of American birth, but of all who stand in need of a helping hand, and an encouraging word; if of foreign birth, so much the greater need of effort to make them true, American citizens.

Gen. Campbell concluded with a merry twinkle all over his kindly face, that he was not there to plead for good and food for the inner life of the little waifs who make such a heroic struggle to grow up to be decent citizens, the speaker descended to the practical side of the question, and after informing the audience that any man who dared to get up and get out would do so under fire, he announced that he wanted to raise the fund to $5000; and started the subscriptions at $100.

This proved a trifle too rich for the blood of the audience, as did suggestion of a $500 subscription which followed. When the speaker addressed W. J. Hunstable, Esq., and D. Houser, who is proprietor of one of the news routes, rose to the occasion and swelled the fund just $50. Quite a number followed with $10 and $5 subscriptions, the first list of which will be found in another column. After the subscriptions, which aggregated $150, a collection of $23.89 was taken up, making $233.69 in all. The rent of Music Hall was also donated as a contribution to the fund and Mr. Dye announced that a special subscription would be taken up in the East Los Angeles Baptist Church.

After the collection the audience was released from durance by the delightful orator on the platform, who was cordially received as chairman for the substantial aid he had rendered toward the establishment of the Newsboys' Home.

The McKinley Club.

The McKinley Club, this evening at Odd Fellows' Hall, will make preparations for a mass-meeting to be held Tuesday evening, April 7. Among the speakers this evening will be George Reed Jr., R. C. Ling, Frank P. Flint, president of the club, and Maj. Redding. Music will be provided, and the meeting will be convened at 8 o'clock.

Hotel del Coronado.

Thursday afternoon,

H. F. NORCROSS, 111 N. Spring St.

Dear Sirs—We are glad to inform you that our stay here is the best part of our trip.—Coronado is simply perfect. It must be seen to be appreciated, for neither tongue nor pen can portray the beauty of the hotel nor the beauty of the location. Nothing else we have seen can compare with this place and its advantages; besides we are surprised that everybody does not come here, but we suppose that many, as we did, think that it is similar to other resorts, and far from it. Thank you again for suggesting it to us, we remain very truly yours. X X X

P. S.—Better have your friends come down at once, the weather is perfect, and we are to be entertained in a week or two. The Phila. and Monadnock are wonderful defenders of Uncle Sam.

Col. G. Otis presided over the meeting, the acting secretaries being William Burgoyne and Brainerd Smith.

Rev. George E. Dye, pastor of the East Los Angeles Baptist Church, occupied a seat on the platform, and an active part was taken during the financial portion of the exercises by the kindred men interested in establishing a comfortable home for the newsboys.

Mrs. Threlkeld, the president of the association, was unable to be present on account of illness, but her place was well supplied by the vice-president, Mrs. Brainerd Smith, who was assisted by the secretary, Mr. E. A. Forester, as well as by Mrs. Burgoyne, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Whippley and Mrs. Johnstone of the board of directors.

The meeting was opened by music from the Venetian Ladies' Quartette, which contributed its share to the success of the meeting, and did everyone else connected with the meeting. Foley Parker adding to the entertainment by two baritone solos and Mr. Ward acting as pianist.

Col. Otis opened the meeting by an hour or two in few well-chosen words, the gratification it afforded him to preside at a gathering, the object of which was the elevation of humanity through the education of the youth in our midst.

Birth, the speaker said, was an accident at the fortune and material conditions of a lottery.

There were bound to be so many children born into the world, unfortunate through no fault of their own, and many of these were in our midst, boys striving to support themselves and often their families also by selling papers.

And the object of this meeting was to provide a home and comforts for these little wrestlers with the great problem of life.

Reverting to the subject just then in hand, he said that the skillful couches drew the portrait of the hardy little fellows bravely fighting the battle of life, and appealed to the people before him to see that they were not driven down into the mire, but lifted up to better things. All kinds of boys were shown in rapid succession, and the audience cheered to the echo at every funny or touching incident of boyish wit, pluck, or ambition, seasoned plentifully with "cussedness," but sound at the core.

The speaker declared it as his belief that there was never yet a boy born into the world with a sound constitution, physically and mentally, that he did not contain all the elements of good citizenship, and it was of the utmost importance to the health of the individual and of the State that these goods should be so trained and cultivated that it would uproot the evil absorbed from surroundings and association.

After Mr. Foley had sung "Where is My Country?" T. W. T. with much feeling and expression, and had responded to an enthusiastic encore by giving the ever-popular "Holy City," Col. Otis introduced Gen. A. B. Campbell, the speaker of the evening, as a man whose heart was in the right place and whose voice was well known he hears that he was there to appear for that kind of a boy; that he believed his instincts were good and manly in spite of his mischief, and that he would make the best kind of an American citizen if he were given half a chance. The speaker's powerful voice grew louder as he spoke, and finally of the article which had been needed to train into a brave and useful manhood, and many faces in the audience were wet with the tears of quick sympathy as the bereaved father drew the lesson of the life and love from the blessing of the family which had been with him for seven happy years and then had gone, leaving him a memory to worship and room in his heart for all the forlorn and neglected boys in the world.

A cordial burst of applause greeted the sturdy veteran as he stepped forward and stood for a moment indifferently polishing his eyeglasses, while he surveyed his audience with a smile.

He then spoke of the friendly talk of the friendly talk which followed.

It was the most interesting of monologues, but it was only a talk, for the lectures had laid aside his manuscript, and spoke straight about the big, warm heart which has room for a welcome for all the luckless little waifs and strays of humanity.

WHAT MAKES ADS INTERESTING.
(Springfield, Mass.) Republican:
Many of us know just what we want,

LA FIESTA PLANS.

Programme Prepared for Athletic

The athletic-day Committee of La Fiesta has arranged a very interesting and exciting programme of events.
Many entries have been sent in, but the committee desires to receive applications of those who intend to take part in the sports, as early as possible.

As yet no competitors have presented themselves for the Rocky-mountain prize is offered.

The tug-of-war feature is exciting and interesting. It is expected that teams from the Seventh Regiment,
Athletic Club and Turn Verein Club
German will enter for this event, but additional entries would make the competition more exciting. Each team is to consist of four men with a combined weight of 700 pounds.

Among the amateur events, the foot and bicycle races and greased-pole race will be the most popular. Those who desire to compete for the valuable prizes, should look out for news in the paper, and apply to the Athletic Committee at the Chamber of Commerce.

The tournament will take place on Thursday afternoon, April 23, and will embrace all kinds of games and athletic sports, together with Indian races and a grand picnic. The celebration will be a great success and the committee urges an immediate

THE BEST SHOE MAKING.

We seek comparison with all other shoe stocks in town. We ask that any demand which can be made of any shoe on earth shall be made of ours. We stand ready to back up our shoes to the last gun. While we do not compete with those who sell to the lowest bidder, our shoes are moderate in price; at $5.00 we have a line of Oxford and Southern Ties that do credit to the best shoemaking in America. We have lower in price, down as low as $1.50, but the $5

THE WORK OF TRAMPS.

Store and Postoffice at Tropicana Burglarized.

The Federal authorities were informed yesterday of a burglary committed in Tropicana, in which the possession was looted. The office was looted.

At the stamp and 50 cent change were taken from the postoffice, and the entire establishment had been gone over with diligence, completely dis-arranging the contents of the store and office. Entrance was effected from the outside, and the burglar was evidently as to see the work of professionals.

So he talked with Mrs. Willis on the subject. She said she did not think her daughter had ever gone wrong, but that she frequently ran away from home, and stayed with friends for days at a time.

The girl refused to go to school, or show her mother due respect, and she was not to be coddled. She evidently expected the child would be taken to Whittier with no more formalities.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE

Annexation Ballots Canvassed by the City Council.

Lot of Land Selected for a Public Market Site.

Judge Clark Declares the State Can See—A Case of Malicious Mischief. Another Burglar Sent to the Penitentiary.

Choice of a lot of land at Ninth and Los Angeles streets was yesterday made by the Council for public market purposes. The Council canvassed the annexation ballots, and formally declared that the recent election carried for annexation. The Health Officer was instructed to abate nuisances complained of in the oil district. The Merchants' Association yesterday petitioned the Council to adopt some sort of hatching ordinance.

At the Courthouse yesterday the headworks case was drawing to a close, having reached the arguments. George Robinson was convicted of burglary and sentenced to the penitentiary. Judge Clark handed down an opinion on the ability of the State to bring suit.

AT THE CITY HALL.

CITY COUNCIL.

Exhibits of Wriggling Maggots from the Oil-well District.

When the Council convened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock President Tread announced the presence of W. A. Spalding in the lobby, and invited Mr. Spalding to address the Council upon the subject of the nuisance created in the oil district by maggots, which are said to infest a large portion of the district.

Mr. Spalding, who is Commissioner of State Building and Loan Associations, and a large property-owner in the oil district, explained to the Councilmen his reason for appearing before them. He exhibited a tin vessel full of crude oil in which maggots were wriggling about, the whole making a striking spectacle. Mr. Spalding declared that because of the prevalent sickness in the oil district, which he believed to be due to nuisances created by the wells, he had been forced to leave his family from the city. He made a rough representation of his case, and the Councilmen were evidently deeply impressed with the statements made by him.

Upon a motion introduced by Councilman Munson the Health Officer was directed to at once cooperate with the Council in eradicating the nuisances complained of. Councilman was directed to the effect that the Council is now paying an oil inspector a good round salary for attending to these matters, and preventing the occasion for any complaints from the oil district.

WINS HIS FIGHT.

The Street Superintendent yesterday scored a point in the long-standing contention between his office and the City Council. It will be remembered that when the Council several months ago went down the line with a resolution to make the Street Superintendent's office deal with in particular a particularly severe manner. The Street Superintendent declared that he would in the end force the Council to the wall on the proposition, and he is steadily making his boast good.

The man who formerly supervised the making of sewer connections was laid off by the Street Superintendent, and a howl arose from the property-owners affected. The Street Superintendent was remonstrated with by the Councilmen, but he calmly announced that until the Council restored to his office one of the men it had cut off there would be no inspection of sewer connections. The Councilmen squirmed and twisted and turned, naturally disliking to be "cowed down the bank" by the Street Superintendent, but at length decided to accede to the Street Superintendent's terms, which was done by adopting the following report of the Sewer Committee in the matter:

"In the matter of the report of the Street Superintendent, asking that the Council appoint a competent sewer man to inspect sewer connections from property line to the sewer in the street, we find that the sewer connections are not being properly made. The Street Superintendent claims that in making the reduction in the expenses of his department there have been taken off two of his men who were engaged in inspecting sewer connections, and that he has not, with the force at present allowed him, made the proper inspection. A number of late sewer districts have just been completed, and numerous connections are being made, and your committee feels that it would be unwise to make these connections without proper inspection and having them in a sanitary manner. We therefore recommend that the Street Superintendent be allowed an additional man for the purpose of making sewer inspections at a salary of $— per month, and that the City Attorney be instructed to prepare and present the necessary ordinance thereto."

PUBLIC MARKET SITE.

The Council yesterday made choice of the property at Ninth and Los Angeles streets as the suitable market site, by adopting the following report of the Public Market Committee. Councilman Stockwell, Snyder and Tread alone voting "no" on the motion to adopt:

"To the Honorable City Council: Your Committee on Public Market beg leave to make the following report: Having advertised and called time and again, we were in hopes of securing the lease of land for the establishment of a market somewhere in the vicinity of the Plaza. The Park Commissioners recommended the Plaza as a suitable place, provided it could be used for that purpose. The petition was referred to the City Attorney who reported that the Plaza could be used for that purpose only by act of the legislature, and that he has serious doubts as to the Legislature's having the power to make the change. Your Committee is still of the opinion that there is great necessity for the establishment of a market and we believe that the land offered by Mr. Abraham Jacoby, situated in the corner of Ninth and Los Angeles streets, is the best and most suitable place for the same. We therefore recommend that his bid for $300 a month be accepted and the City Attorney instructed to make the necessary contract as stipulated in the petition."

COUNCILMAN SAVAGE SPEAKS.

Councilman Thomas Savage has been "produced up" by a few of his constituents lately, and he has made the following effort to "square himself":

"The unenlightened Councilman from the Eightieth Ward begs leave to report in the name of petition from G.

I. Willis, stating that some five months ago the Council passed an ordinance of intention to sidewalk and curb Commercial street from Alameda to Vignes street, and that no protest has been filed, and also that the ordinance of intention to sidewalk and curb Vignes street from First street to Alameda street, has allowed me to sleep, and asking that these matters be pushed to completion; that in neither of these matters has ordinances of intention ever been passed. In the improvement of Commercial street after the ordinance of intention was passed, it was found that it would be necessary to change and establish a portion of the grade before the walk could properly be laid, and this proceeding is going on as rapidly as

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

The protests of various property-owners against the widening of Ninth street from Spring street to Pearl street, were deferred for hearing until next Friday afternoon, at a special meeting of the Council.

A report was received from the committee appointed to open Bryam street into Eleventh street, to the effect that the Mayor, after being shown Washington street and Twenty-fourth street, be granted an extension of thirty days, in which to complete his work, was adopted.

Commonwealth vs. Honorable City Council:

Judge Clark has handed down his opinion in the matter of the estate of one Reynolds, deceased, who died leaving no wife or children, and the entire property he owned was left to his widow, Mrs. Basilia de Fay, who was not an heir at law. Consequently the State, which would have inherited had Reynolds died intestate, sued as a person for possession of the property. Judge Clark says that the State, which would otherwise be entitled to the property by escheat, has the right to cause the property to be probated of the proffered will.

If it be the law that, when a person dies leaving no husband, wife or kindred, and no heirs entitled to succeed under the provisions of the Civil Code, and yet the State is compelled to stand helpless by, and see the estate of such decedent distributed to strangers, according to the terms of a spurious or invalid will, then legislation is needed on the subject. The demands are granted, and ten days given in amendment.

IS THE PARK PUBLIC?

A Whole Neighborhood Involved in Malicious Mischief.

Eight men were yesterday arrested for malicious mischief upon complaint of Frank Barclay, owner of the Vista tract. Mr. Barclay had beautified the tract, which belongs to him, by planting a little park, which he enclosed within a fence. The buyers of lots on the tract considered this a public park, and took it upon themselves to tear down the fence. Mr. Barclay, however, said that it was his private grounds, but the men argued for common rights.

John McVine, William Blumfeld, William Watson, John Kirkness, C. C. Harling, William Brown, L. T. Rowley, and Julius Chandler.

The examination was set for May 1.

WANTED TO WORK.

An Energetic Young Darky Who Escaped Whittier.

A buxom colored woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Berry, called yesterday upon the District Attorney for the purpose of obtaining a complaint against her sixteen-year-old son as an incorrigible. After the relation of her story, the complaint was refused by Maj. Donnell with a suddenness which caused the worthy woman's head to spin.

The boy's worst crime appeared to be a desire to earn his own living and be independent. He had histronic ambitions and joined a company of barn-stormers who were traveling about the country giving shows. He got into trouble at heart! You think to protect your own deadly hate by building tombs for the prophets your fathers slew!"

In eight successive waves of predicted woe His denunciations were thus hurled at the sin and hypocrisy of the Pharisees, and then the alluring serpent, Herod, with pointed itself out on the city itself. Finally as the storm of wrath passed away, He resumed a compassionate tone and said, with manifest affection:

"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings; and ye will not!"

OUR CITY'S DESOLATION IS AT HAND

Jesus Pictures it as a Carrion on Which the Eagles Will Feed.

(Matt. xxiv, 31-32; Mark xiii, 27; Luke xxi, 5-23.)

As the Galilean's band ascended, Olivet at the close of the day, they were struck, exceedingly with the grandeur of the temple buildings. They were indeed at the foot of the hill, and the massive stones of variegated marble glistened like the waves of the sea, and the golden lances on the roofs gleamed like tongues of flame. It was a startling contrast to the tale of future desolation told them by their teacher in my name, saying, "I am he; do not go after me." Nation shall rise against nation, and you shall be delivered up to be slain. Where your carcass is, there will the eagles gather, and there shall be terrors and great signs from heaven.

Having warned them of internal heresies He next pointed out how persecutions are impending from without.

"Then will they bring severe afflictions upon you, and will kill you; and you will be hated of all nations for my name's sake."

These words still more specific He told the signs that will precede our city's desolation.

"When you see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then let them know that in Judea flee into the mountains."

Lastly, His own coming, its sign, and the end of the world were depicted.

The Church Must Watch and Wait.

(Matt. xxiv, 32-51; Mark xiii, 28-37; Luke xxi, 29-36.)

Turning in his hand a twig from the fig-tree on which he still sat, Jesus called attention to the softening buds from which the new leaves were ready to spring.

"Know of yourselves from these that summer is nigh," was his comment.

"This generation will not pass away until it has taken place."

Then, leading their thoughts to weightier themes He said that the day and hour when heaven and earth should pass away He would not tell.

"He enjoined them to watch. To a faithful waiting attitude he recommended. Steadfastly in the path of duty they are to keep and be ready, evening, midnight, dawn and morning, for of the day and hour when the Lord cometh no one knoweth but the Father only."

The Fruiteas Fig Tree Withered at His Word.

(Matt. xxii, 20-22; Mark xi, 20-25.)

As the followers of Jesus were returning this morning, they came upon a sight that amazed them greatly. The fig tree which He had planted on the preceding day had withered to its very roots. "How," he taught, "that little bit of faith was an irresistible power with which they also, if they but doubt not, could command the mountains to be taken up and cast into the sea."

The Priests Gain Take.

(Matt. xxvii, 1-10; Mark xv, 1-15; Luke xxii, 1-27.)

An ordinance of intention to improve the frontage of Arnold street; an ordinance of intention of widening Shatto street between Vernon street and Union avenue; an ordinance allowing the Water Overseer three additional deputies after April 1.

"I have also presented and herewith presented a bill to the National Guard for the privilege of using certain water of the river for cooling purposes, for the term of two years, at $5 per month.

"As directed by you, I have prepared and herewith presented a contract and bond with Consolidated Pipe Company for furnishing and laying pipe in the public parks.

"In the matter of the suit brought by the city against Leavis and others, in which the damages were fixed by the court at $125, I have paid them into the treasury for the use of the defendants, and entered a decree of condemnation of the land.

CITY ENGINEER'S REPORT.

"In the matter of frost from W. W. Clark et al., against sidewalkers San Julian street between Fifth and Seventh streets, I have to report that the frontage represented is 114 feet and the average affected 2446 feet, resulting 1324 feet for a majority. At that time the following reports from the City Attorney and the engineer were received.

"In accordance with petition from J. D. Eggen et al., I present an ordinance of intention to widen Tenth street from Grand View avenue to Park View avenue.

"An ordinance of intention to improve Rosemont avenue from Temple street to Keys street, said improvement to be made under the Bond act.

"An ordinance of intention to improve Third street from Alameda to Santa Fe avenue.

"An ordinance of intention to construct a gun and started on the war-path; but, as Howerton put a barn between himself and his assailant, no blood was shed. Notwithstanding this, Howerton was held to answer on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon in $300 bail.

ANOTHER MAN INVOLVED.

Charge of Rape Against Antonio Morino Dismissed.

Antonio Morino, the Mexican accused of having assaulted Lydia Brown, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Edwin C. Brown of Garvanza, was brought before Justice Young yesterday for examination, but released, the complaint against him being dismissed upon motion of the District Attorney.

"An ordinance of intention to improve Rosemont avenue from Temple street to Bellevue avenue.

"An ordinance of intention to construct a sewer on Belmont avenue from Belmont avenue intersection with Rockwood street to a point ten feet north of First street.

"An ordinance of intention to improve Montreal street from Bartlett to Alpine street.

"An ordinance of intention to construct a sewer on Brent street from Temple street to Bellevue avenue.

"An ordinance of intention to construct a sewer on Belmont avenue from Belmont avenue intersection with Rockwood street to a point ten feet north of First street.

"Final ordinance establishing the grade of Beaudry avenue from Bartlett to Alpine street.

"In the matter of sewer on Amelia street, between De Mornay and Compton street, would report that upon investigation I find there is no necessity of a sewer on this street. Health Officer concurs.

"In accordance with petition No. 99 from E. W. Campbell et al., we have furnished the City Attorney with necessary information of property to be taken up and district to be assessed for the widening of Shatto street between Vernon street and Union avenue.

"In accordance with petition No. 139 from R. A. Chapman et al., I present an ordinance of intention to improve Eighth street in the portion of Carondelet street, said improvements to be made under the Bond act."

VAUDEVILLE IN A TENT.

First Night of the Vivian de Monte Show.

In a big tent at Third and Wall streets the "Vivian de Monte Super Company," a traveling vaudeville aggregation, played last evening to an enthusiastic audience that applauded with vim and vigor the half-dozen "turns" that made up the evening's program.

At a 10-cent admission rate the tent was packed with lovers of the cheap, in the amusement line, and though the younger portion of the crowd, on the whole, were of fair complexion, the general, fairly good order was maintained throughout. The usual jocund, boisterous, rollicking fun made up the entertainment, which concluded with a typical farce called "The New Telephone." The show will be repeated with variations for a number of weeks.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman G. Reed entertained at dinner Sunday evening, at their home on Beach street. The flowers upon the table were charmingly arranged. In the center was a tall cut-glass vase, filled with Maréchal Niel roses, and banked about with panies, which were also strewn over the table. The buffet and mantel were massed with similar panies and large clusters of yellow and white carnations. The guests were Dr. and Mrs. Macdowall, Mrs. Briggs, Dr. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Faxon and Mr. and Mrs. Ley.

MONDAY MUSICALE.

Mrs. J. J. Byrne, entertained the Monday Musical Club yesterday afternoon at her home on Figueroa street. The programme was delightfully rendered. Miss George Mullins sang Beethoven's "La Douceur"; Miss Madge Rogers sang "Oblivion"; by Victor Marie; Miss Conger played a mazourka by Moszkowski; and a novelle by Schumann; Miss Mullins played a two-violin solo, a "Reverie" by Debussy; and "Paganini" by Brahms. Mrs. J. Roth Hamilton sang Liszt's "Love-Lyric" and "Mother Love" by Hope Temple; Miss Kent played a romance by Rubinstein, and "Butterflies," by Grieg; and Miss James gave a violin solo, a romance by Svensen.

A SILVER WEDDING.

Rev. Dr. J. A. B. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, at the parsonage on North Hill street last evening. The room was packed with guests, the members of the First Methodist Church, of which Dr. Wilson is the pastor, turning out en masse, and many of the other churches being represented. The house had been artistically decorated with quantities of flowers in the addition to the church. The drawing room was in white, with masses of Niphets and La Marque roses banking the mantel and overflowing jars and bowls. About the mantel were also bows of white satin ribbon and hand-made bows and feathers of white and pink with graceful effect. In the wide doorways were grilles of white roses and smilax. In the dining room pink satin ribbon edged with tiny bells were swung from the chandelier to the corners of the table, and the chairs were decked with pink roses and amilias. The buffet and mantel were banked with the same roses. Upstairs two of the rooms were in yellow and two in red. The exterior of the house was illuminated with Chinese lanterns.

At Mrs. Ogilvie's party on March 25, the wedding entered. First came Dr. and Mrs. Wilson's four sons, the Rev. Clarence T. Wilson, Herman Fowler Wilson, John Ralph Wilson and Carl Groves Wilson; then the daughter-in-law, Mrs. Herman Fowler, who is in white silk, with garlands of violets and Maris roses. Then came Dr. and Mrs. Wilson, who, standing in front of the rose-banked mantel, renewed their vows, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. J. B. Green and Dr. C. T. Wilson. They wore an elegant gown of steel-colored satin, the waist trimmed with ribbon and white lace; knots of orange-blossoms were fastened in her hair and upon her left shoulder. Among those who assisted in the marriage were Misses Oliver, Mrs. Howey, McKoon, Seymour, Baker, Gislater, Muiford and the Eworth League; Miss Gastron, the Misses Oliver, the Misses Smith, Vernon, Taylor, Crow, Bradley; Messrs. Oliver, Jeffrey, Briggs, Brown, Talbot, Hancock, D. L. Miller, etc. The dining room was provided over by Miss Dow, assisted by Misses Woodhead, Lynch, Baker and a number of the young people of the church. Quantities of handsome gifts were received from friends, both from the members of the church and from the East. The members of the church presented Dr. and Mrs. Wilson with an elegant set of silver. Telegrams were received from Bishops Foss, Mallalieu, Ninde and Goodwin; Rev. Dr. Jones, of Santa Ana, an old-time friend, made a laudatory speech, and a poem containing the same sentiment, written by Rev. C. P. Swain, was read by Miss Oliver. Mrs. Moffatt sang a solo; Miss Abbie Mills read an anniversary poem, written by her mother; the organ section of the choir, evolutions by Miss Willis, reading of the telegram by Dr. Brobeck, and then Dr. Beck, on behalf of the church, made the presentation speech. Dr. Wilson made a graceful response.

(Pasadena Star) As our separated brethren of the Citizens' party profess to be traveling on a high moral plane, we would suggest to them that the holding of political meetings on Sunday is not quite the thing for a community like Pasadena. It would comport better with the longitude of Cripple Creek or Builwayo.

CITY COUNCIL.

Colorado-street Paving and Widening of Lake Avenue Considered.

The regular meeting of the City Council this afternoon was brief and devoted entirely to routine work. The petition of George Holloway for an extension of time for six days on the work on State street was granted, as the delay was occasioned by the rain, and the petition of De Huff & Heiser for the permission to construct a corrugated-iron bridge over the backs-over of brick piers stones on the southwest portion of the Ward property, on the south side of Colorado street, was granted.

The Colorado-street paving matter came up again, in the presentation of a protest with something over half a million signatures, and the asphaltum will not be placed for this season at least, on that street. No action was taken upon the protest further than to file it, and it was the expression of the intention of the board to take action at all upon the matter, but to let the in-coming board to wrestle with it when it takes its seat. The hearing on the Marconi-avenue paving was postponed for two weeks, to allow everyone a full chance of being heard, and the protest on the improvement of the main avenue, which represented less than a majority of the frontage of the street, was set for hearing Monday April 6, at 3 o'clock.

The Lake Avenue widening, which has engaged the attention of the board for a portion of every sitting for the last three weeks, came up again for discussion. L. P. Hansen, Mr. Beck and Mr. Newcome presented a formal agreement of dedication of the required strip of land, which in the center front of their property on South Lake avenue, San Pasqual and California, which they have already improved as is contemplated for the entire street, the only condition being that they should not be included in any assessment to be made for the rest of the street. It was accordingly decided to accept the grants and file them. Then a resolution of intention was introduced to widen the street, and the widening of South Lake avenue on each side of the street by condemning a strip of WEAR ON GOLD COIN. One of the drawbacks of using gold for coinage purposes is the fact that the loss of the metal by abrasion is quite considerable. It is estimated that the loss of the $500,000 in gold coin in actual use, $3,625,000 is light. As to the actual loss of weight the records of the New York assay office make it $4,033 per $100, white at San Francisco, while the assay office make it $4,033 per $100, white at San Francisco, while the loss was $10.10 per $100.

The deed of Byron O. Clark and his wife, Mary E. Clark conveying to the city a certain lot for street purposes, the land to be used open space, to the Arroyo New Dry, was not accepted by the board, as it has been found rather a costly experiment to acquire land too near the arroyo for streets, but the Street and Alley Committee was asked to investigate the location of the proposed street, and to advise of the advisability of the acceptance of the same.

The ordinance changing the name of Webster avenue to Mentor avenue passed the final reading, and the affidavits of the posting of the notices of street work on Euclid and Saylor avenues were filed. A resolution ordering the board to pass a resolution closing Saylor avenue also passed.

A report was asked for on the matter of the Council's dredging the intervals since last July, but nothing definite was forthcoming.

The bids for work on "San Pasqual" street resulted in the award of the contract to George Holloway. A. H. Hodder, who was awarded a contract for improving Grand avenue, and J. W. Fairchild was the successful bidder on the paving of the Carlton alley, the price for the asphaltum being fixed at 20 cents per square foot, the granite block gutter in the center of the alley, which is to be three feet wide, and to be constructed according to specific specification, being estimated at 75 cents per linear foot.

Three Withdrawals of Candidates for City Offices.

(SANTA MONICA, March 20.)—(Regular Correspondence.) There have been three withdrawals from the list of nominations for city offices as filed with the City Clerk. The period during which withdrawals from the list of nominations to be printed on the official ballot could be made, expired at midnight Saturday, March 17. The candidates who might be candidates who failed to have their names stricken from the list the City Clerk consented to keep his office open till the day ended. A meeting of members of a certain secret organization is reported to have been held for the purpose of reducing the number of candidates, and it is believed that the members of the syndicate pledged themselves to withdraw the names of those they knew to be undesirable, and otherwise that had been nominated from among friends of such members. There were five such candidates for City Trustees and only three vacancies can be filled. Before any action in the way of reduction was taken by the meeting, the officers of the organization clearly stated that no member was to withdraw from the list.

From the vigor and vehemence with which the purposed withdrawal of the syndicate are set forth in La Presse, it would appear that there might be introduced the peerless California prune into La Belle France, must do so over the dead bodies of the prune-dealers of the Syndicat des Negociants.

(NEW INCORPORATIONS.) Articles of incorporation have been filed by Luis Nietos and Rancho Walnut-growers Association, formed to handle and market to the best advantage the walnuts grown by the individual members of the association.

The principal place of business will be at the office of the members of the syndicate, located at 1000 Main street, Los Angeles.

(Pasadena Star) As our separated brethren of the Citizens' party profess to be traveling on a high moral plane, we would suggest to them that the holding of political meetings on Sunday is not quite the thing for a community like Pasadena. It would comport better with the longitude of Cripple Creek or Builwayo.

Among the arrivals at the Jackson are C. C. Wilson and J. M. Spillman, Davenport, Ia.; W. W. Gardner, Avoca, Ia.

In the report of the arrivals of the bank Fernbank, F. G. Lucas was inadvertently spoken of as a custom-house officer. He is first assistant wharfmaster and also pilot at Port Laredo.

DUARTE.

(Duarde, March 20.)—(Regular Correspondence.) The directors of the Duarre-Monrovia Fruit Association will meet tomorrow and the secretary is busy prorating the dividend already declared to stockholders and made payable on and after April 1. The present dividend varies from $2.50 to $5.00 to the individual and total amount of $100,000. Another dividend will be declared in a short time. The good news was recently received that a rebate of $200 on last year's freight business will soon be prorated between all the exchanges, to Duarre will get a share for a bill of lading.

Such expeditions as these which are now going into the far north will doubtless have the effect of transforming Alaska into a populous and progressive section within a few years. The country is now known to contain a vast amount of mineral wealth, even more, perhaps, than is generally supposed—but as The Times has previously remarked, it is no place for poor men to rush to. Nobody should go there unless he is prepared to meet conditions, unless he has plenty of money to bring him out again.

Meantime, it should be again remarked that there are plenty of good opportunities for the investment of money in mining within a day's journey of Los Angeles.

BIDS FOR THE NEW COUNTY JAIL AT SANTA ANA.

That Obstreperous Saloon-keeper Finally Goes to Jail—The Parker-McDonald Wedding—News Notes and Personal Items.

SANTA ANA, March 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) The time of the Supervisors was taken up pretty well today in consideration of bids for a new County Jail. Representatives of various firms were present and each one reviewed his firm's bid showing wherein it was or would be advantageous for the board to accept it.

The bids opened were as follows:

Sinclair &amp; Beer of San Diego bid $4700 on cells and iron work, $15,230 on the building without the cells and iron work, or $19,930 on the jail complete.

The firm to use Seape stone in certain portions of the building, Fauly Jail Building and Manufacturing Company of St. Louis bid only on the cells and iron work, the figures being $7975.

Hulteen &amp; Bergstrom of Los Angeles bid $19,372 on the building complete, with the provision that the stone be made of Arizona stone if Arizona stone be used.

$6547 on the iron and cell work, and $13,255 on the building with Seape stone, without cells and iron, and $14,555 for the same with the exception that Arizona stone be used. W. E. Thornton &amp; Co. of San Francisco bid $14,414 on the cells and iron work, $15,372 on the building complete, Seape stone to be used. C. B. Parcells, representing the Diebold Safe and Lock Company, bid $6000 on the cells and iron work, and the Van Dore Iron Works Company of Cleveland, O., bid $7397 on a similar portion of the work. W. E. Thornton &amp; Co. had $14,500, and L. C. Company made a bid on this department of $5000. C. W. McNeill of Santa Ana bid on the building complete with both Seape and Arizona stone. With the former the bid was $26,152 and with the latter $21,552; for the cells and iron work $15,367, and the building without the cells and iron work, $14,505.

Upon the opening and reading of the bids extended discussions followed, which occupied the remainder of the day. Before the board adjourned Messrs. Sinclair &amp; Beer of San Diego withdrew their bid.

The board then adjourned to meet Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

STEPHEN'S INNING.

Leo Stephan, the obstreperous saloon-keeper near Orange, had an interesting Monday in the Superior Court, and at the present time he stands, if not alone, or two alone. In his case against the Board of Supervisors to compel them to issue him a salvo license the motion to quash the writ heretofore submitted by the defendants, and taken under advisement by the court has been denied and the defendant has chosen to go to the petition was overruled. The defendants were given ten days to answer.

But this was not the end of the case. Stephan had failed to pay the fine of $350 imposed by Superior Judge Towner for selling liquor without a license, and had been ordered committed to the County Jail for 125 days.

Now attorneys for the would-be saloon-keeper propose making application to the Superior Court for a writ of habeas corpus to effect his release.

Verily, the way of the transgressor seems to be hard and the end is not yet.

PARKER-M'DONALD.

J. E. Parker of West Orange and Miss Mary McDonald of Los Angeles were married in the home of a friend of the bride in Los Angeles at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The ceremony was performed before a select few of the relatives only of the bride and groom, and after congratulations were exchanged, the bridal party boarded a train for Orange.

Later in the evening the wedding party was received at the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker and there were present a large number of the Orange county friends of both the bride and groom. Mr. Parker is a brother of Ed and Clarence Parker of Santa Ana, and the bride is well known in Los Angeles, where she has hosts of friends and acquaintances.

OVER NINE TO ONE.

The circulation of the petitions for municipal and private ownership of the electric-light system in Santa Ana goes merrily on, and the ratio of increase of steadily increasing. The sentiment, as expressed up to the time this report closed Monday evening, was over nine to one in favor of the city owning and operating its system, the same as its water works.

REDLANDS.

The City Campaign Reaching White Heat.

REDLANDS, March 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) If the city campaign does not become hot before the election it will not be the fault of the temperance people. At the Methodist Church Sunday morning Stephen Bowers delivered a prohibition lecture and in the evening at the Baptist Church Maj. Scott lectured upon the same theme. Rev. Mr. Williams at the First Congregational Church delivered an anti-saloon sermon in the morning. Rev. Mr. Inwood of the Methodist Episcopal Church gave notice that one sermon each week will be delivered against the saloon. Rev. Mr. Harrington of the Baptist Church announces an anti-saloon sermon for next Sunday evening, while Mrs. Gouger is advertised to speak against saloons on the last three nights before election at the Academy of Music.

Meanwhile the license-adversaries are not idle, but are quietly getting in their best work on individuals, and the election is as yet no man's victory.

COLTON.

COLTON, March 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) The city election will occur on April 13 and is daily growing in interest. The point in contest is simply "prohibition government" as the phrase is interpreted by the contestants. The candidates before the people for the offices are as follows: Trustees (two to be elected), R. H. Franklin and A. S. Fox on the Citizens' ticket; Michael Murphy and John Terry on the Independent ticket; Treasurer, Citizens' ticket, E. M. Hubbard; Independent ticket, G. E. Johnson; Clerk, Daniel Johnson on Citizens' ticket, with his competitor, Marshal; Citizens' ticket, A. D. Spring; Thomas Adkins on George Shelby's ticket.

POMONA.
POMONA, March 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) The growers of deciduous fruits in Pomona Valley say that the blossoming of prunes and peaches is most abundant just now. In the northern part of the valley the bloom on prune trees is particularly prolific. Peaches are blossoming well throughout this locality. Apricots are the most irregular in bloom of any season in a number of years. The recent unusually warm weather has caused many hundreds of apricot trees to blossom several weeks ago, and now there are many more apricot trees that are coming into full bloom. Here and there may be seen orchards now partially in bloom, and at the same time bearing fruit, and as far as possible the result will be that the apricot crop will be harvested through many weeks next summer, instead of all at one time, for the fruit will come to fruition anywhere from July 1 to the middle of August. Some of the growers like the outlook, for they say they will be able to dry and market their apricot crop by degrees.

POMONA BREVIETIES.

The mass-meeting to support the public sewer proposition will be held tomorrow (Tuesday) evening.

The Southern California Medical Society has been invited to hold its next meeting (that on June 3) in Pomona.

J. C. McCaul, who is visiting here from Detroit, Mich., says that the McKeever sentiments is wonderfully strong and unanimous throughout states of Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana, and that four out of every five Republicans one meets there is a pronounced McKinley man. No candidate has been so universally popular before the convention since Grant ran in 1872.

Orphans' Home Benefit—Redlands Fighting the Saloons—City Tickets of Cotton-Farmers' Institute. Programme and Committees.

SAN BERNARDO, March 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) It looks now as though the Supervisors had been worked to the tune of $40. Some time since S. S. Guffy asked the Supervisors to send him to the rescue of Edwin Laurence, alleged to be snowed in in Swarthout Cañon. They authorized Mr. Guffy to lead an expedition to his relief, and later that gentleman of a Pickwickian name, reported that he had accomplished his object, presented a letter from Mr. Laurence, thanking the Supervisors, and collected $40 for his services. Now comes a letter to the Times-Index from Edwin Laurence saying that he sees by the papers that he has been rescued from the snow, not wanting to know by whom and where. Naturally Mr. Laurence is interested in knowing whether that episode occurred, if it did occur. He has in his letter that the only help he had was from Mr. Guffy, who sent him a bale of mouldy hay, after he had himself rescued his animals from danger. ## FRIENDS' MEETING.

FINAL ADJOURNMENT OF THE GATHERING YESTERDAY.

Annual Meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society—Attitude of Friends with Respect to Ordinances—Memorial to Congress.

WHITTIER, March 30.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Saturday evening session of the Friends' Yearly Meeting was the annual meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society. The programme that was rendered included devotional exercises conducted by the Rev. C. C. Reynolds of Pasadena; paper, "Alaskan Jottings," Mary E. Chauner, Whittier; vocal solo, "The Light of Our Way"; Thomas Williams, Long Beach; paper, "Our Greatest Needs"; Miss Florence Kehl, Pasadena; male quartette, "Remember Me, O Mighty One;" A. H. Jessup, Everett Frazier, A. Tomlinson, George Hennicutt, Whittier; paper, "The Effect of the Christian Endeavor upon the Church"; E. L. Gregory, El Modena; vocal solo, "Building on the Rock," C. C. Reynolds, Pasadena; recitation, Myra Frazier, Long Beach; speech, "The Christian Endeavor Idealist," Prof. E. E. Nichols, Capistrano; vocal solo, "O Holy Father," Miss Myrtle Purdon, Pasadena; paper, "The Christian Endeavor's Duty to His Nation"; Miss Anna M. Moore, Whittier.

The Rev. C. C. Reynolds of Pasadena was chosen president for the coming year, and Miss R. Esther Smith of Long Beach was chosen secretary.

At 9 a.m. Sunday there was a praise service, and at 10 a.m. the meeting for worship was lead by the Rev. John Henry Douglas, who preached for nearly an hour and a half with great force. He dwelt at considerable length upon the question of the ordinances, explaining the grounds that the Friends' Church had taken up to their position as to the ordinances.

At 7 p.m. the Rev. Lydia Romack of Oregon read a paper on "Systematic Giving," which contained many good suggestions. This was followed by a half-hour of song service, and then the Rev. Charles H. Studd of London presented the sermon of the evening. He took his text from Exodus xxix: 24. After the sermon closed time was given for testimony, and a large number of those present testified.

The Monday-morning session being the last of the yearly meeting, the reports of unfinished business were introduced. The general episode of the yearly meeting addressed to the Friends in England, Ireland and elsewhere, was read. This matter was referred to Prof. C. Tibbett.

Carey's report was received and accepted, and a vote of thanks was extended to them for their many efforts in behalf of the comfort of the meeting.

The report of the Committee on Care of Meetings was read and approved. The report of the Nominating Committee on Christian Work gave the following-named Friends to serve: Pleasant Andrews, Isaac Kenworthy, Laura H. Newell and Sarah Cooper Norton.

Charles E. Vester of Alámitos was elected chairman of committee and general superintendent of evangelical work.

The request of Friends in Kansas was referred to the representative meeting. The committee reported that the time of holding the next yearly meeting, which is to begin the third Thursday in June of next year and to hold to one week.

The committee having charge of the expenses of traveling ministers who have attended the meeting were directed to draw on the treasury to meet the same.

The delegates authorized the secretary to draw on the treasury for expenses of the meeting. It was ordered that the cost of the last seventy-five chains of iron amounting to $100 should be drawn from the treasury. It was also ordered that the balance of $75 due on the Wildomar meeting-house be paid and that a deed to the property be made to the yearly-meeting.

The sum of $500 was ordered to be drawn to be used in the different departments of church work.

The ratio of expenses for money to be raised, Whittier quarterly meeting 60 per cent., and Pasadena quarterly meeting 60 per cent.

A memorial to Congress in regard to peace and arbitration was ordered to be prepared at an early day and presented to that body.

Prof. Rader, of Stock of Ontario took the floor and spoke at some length on the peace question, after which the following resolution was read and adopted:

"Resolved, that California Yearly Meeting of Friends affirms with renewed force the gospel principles of peace and arbitration, the defense of which the advocacy of war so frequently displayed in our public press, and especially deplore the movement to introduce military training in our public schools. We also declare our belief in the support of arbitration as a substitute for war."

Extracts from the minutes of meeting for ministry and oversight were entered to go upon file.

The trustees of the academy again brought forward the subject of raising funds for the expense of the school next year and the subscription was raised to over $700.

I. M. Cammack, chairman, reported that the prospect for increased facilities for another year was good.

Eighty dollars were voted to be prepared for each of the yearly meetings of Friends in America and a copy to be forwarded to each.

Returning minutes of visiting Friends were ordered to be prepared and presented.

This closed the business of the present sessions of the yearly meeting and a short time was given for short expressions of themselves, after which the meeting adjourned to meet on the third Thursday in June of next year.

May Bring a New Industry.

L. G. Smith of Astoria, O., writes to Mayor Rader, asking that a four-ounce sample of the whitest sand produced in Los Angeles be sent to him by mail. Mr. Smith writes: "It is of the right quality. It is very pure, and I think that a large industry will come to your city." The letter has been turned over to the Chamber of Commerce and the sample will be forwarded as requested. It is thought that the establishment of a glass factory may be contemplated, as the sand is the best available of the cheap fuel available in Los Angeles crude oil. There is, however, nothing to show definitely the object in view, but it is hoped the sample may meet requirements, whatever it may be.

Ten Acres of Limes.

C. N. Wilson of San Fernando has ten acres of land planted to Mexican limes that are just coming into bearing. This is the largest lime orchard in California. Samples of the ripe fruit were shown to the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The Covina Citrus Association sent in two cases of oranges and the San Diego Chamber of Commerce one more. The orange display is now quite interesting, as indeed, might be said of citrus fruits generally.

GARBAGE CREMATORIUM.

Work to Begin Today on This Important Contract.

Today the construction of the new garbage crematory will commence. It will be erected just outside the city at the end of Santa Fe Avenue, in accordance with the decision of the City Council.

A single furnace is to be built at present with a double compartment smoke stack, so that the works may be doubled at any time if necessary.

The furnace proper is ten feet wide, ten feet feed high and thirty feet long, with a smoke stack sixty feet.

The building is 40x60 feet. An inclining plane allows the garbage wagon to drive to a level with the top of the furnace and dump the garbage directly into the manholes in the top. The noxious gases and vapors which rise in the primary furnace are subjected to an intense heat from a second furnace in the smoke stack before passing out.

Sale of the Medill Place.

A notable transaction in reality is reported from Pasadena, where the sale was consummated yesterday of the handsome residence site of Joseph Medill of Chicago. The property is at Pasadena and money will be expended having to make it an ideal home. The price realized for the property is over $50,000, and D. R. Cameron, of the firm of Cameron, Amberg & Co., of Chicago, was the purchaser. A grand residence will be erected on this superb site, which is promised to eclipse everything in Southern California, both in the buildings (several) and in all its appointments.

The site is 100x150 feet, and includes a building 40x60 feet, and in all its appointments.

The site will be made into a model home, typical of California, and suited for the luxurious habitation of one who can well afford to have his ease in this land of sun.
